Lori,
I am in total disbelief at the news of Caleb's passing. I saw him over the summer and met his beautiful little girl buying a pink fishing pole to go fishing. It was so nice to see him and had that big vibrant smile going on. It had been years since I saw him. I know Kenny and Dinky were waiting for him when he arrived at heavens gate. My heart aches for your loss. I will keep you in my thoughts and prayers. Hugs and love, Elka

My first kiss was with you. Of course many years ago but I've never forgotten.. I had seen you at dollar general kinda recentish… I am just heart broken over this. I pray that god has his hands on your daughter and family. My Pap passed away on the same day last year. I'm not sure if Caleb knew my Pap but he knew my uncle and my uncle passed so I'm sure there was friendly faces that we both knew to great you at those golden gates! I love you Caleb!!
