But I suppose it's cheaper to bury bodies than to take care of living beings.

After all who gives a shit about the emotional toll of grief, abuse, harassment, and endless struggles unless it's your own?

Welcome to project 25. Welcome to the New World order. Welcome to the Hell that you deserve.

“ I was blessed to know and care for her at Lowrie Place. She was a unique and beautiful soul who brought a smile to everyone who spent even a few moments around her. We all adored her and will miss her.
