“ Lori, Your beautiful daughter was so full of life and laughter and love. Your love shined through her. Now her love shines through you. She gave you and other's beautiful memories that noone can take. She will forever live in your heart. My heart hurts for you as I have gone through the endless pain of loosing a child. I can't express how sorry I am. May you try and find peace as your sweet child has now found peace. Sending love and hugs to you all.

“ I'm so sorry for your loss. She was a shining light at Chicora Medical Center when I worked there in the therapy department. She had a beautiful smile and was willing to help when needed. I really have no words to express my sadness that she struggled and could not break free. It breaks my heart. Sincerely, Patty D
