“Nathan was a gentle giant. I couldn't ever imagine meeting someone so sweet and caring. We bonded over the medical issues we were both having and would often text while watching the same shows at our own houses. We were able to offer each other a pillar of support that wasn't there prior to meeting. I was thankful to have Nathan in my life, even if it was just for a short time. I was blessed with becoming close with his family, especially his sweet mother, Ann. Nathan's courage, faith, strength, and bravery was always something I admired about him. He was "strong as a bear" and proved that in his final days. Spending time with him in the ICU at Passavant was emotionally challenging because I knew I would be losing him but wouldn't trade those moments of holding his hand, scratching his head, and the hugs every time he stood up for anything. Nathan taught me many lessons and has continued to help bring me courage and strength since he has passed.

Not a day goes by that I don't miss this big burr and wish I could get a big big hug. I'm sure he will be waiting for me in heaven!
