“ To the Cordts Family:

I did not know Mr. Cordts but do know the pain of losing a dear loved one in death. I have found comfort in knowing that our dear heavenly Father yearns to comfort those who are going through this grievous time and to bring all those back from the grave to enjoy a peaceful and wonderful life with their dearly departed. (Job 14:15) Jesus Christ performed a loving act when he died for us so that all may have the gift of everlasting life. (Romans 6:23)

May each of you find comfort in knowing that the resurrection is a guarantee and that you will enjoy it with your loved one.##imported-begin##Evelyn##imported-end##

“ *My Sincere Condolences To The Cordts Family. Death is usually difficult no matter the circumstances. I hope that during this time of need you remember the good times, let yourself grieve, accept help from family, friends and even well meaning strangers, and first and foremost remember that God cares for you, 1Peter 5:7, so he will give you the strength to continue even when you think you can't. Reading of the resurrection of Lazarus can also be encouraging. Sincerely,
Angie##imported-begin##Angie##imported-end##*
